In the Name of Allah, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful

Release of the Third Issue of the University of Lahej Journal of Applied Sciences and Humanities, Volume 2, Issue 1 (2026)

By the grace and guidance of Allah, the University of Lahej Journal of Applied Sciences and Humanities is pleased to announce the release of its third issue, Volume 2, Issue 1 (2026), continuing its scholarly mission to advance knowledge, enrich scientific research, and serve the community.

This issue features a collection of original research articles and studies across the fields of applied sciences and humanities. All published contributions have undergone the journal's rigorous academic and scientific review procedures, reflecting its ongoing commitment to quality, scholarly rigor, and research integrity.

In presenting this issue to researchers, academics, and interested readers, the Editorial Board hopes it will serve as a meaningful contribution to the advancement of knowledge, support the broader research community, and foster communication and the exchange of expertise among scholars.
